DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/20/09 has been entered.

Response to the arguments

Applicants have filed a declaration stating that the prior art compounds do not have the same activity because their compounds have an vinyl group which takes part in the polymerization and those of the prior art do not.

This is not found to be convincing as applicants R5 can be other groups and R8 does have an unsaturated group, however applicants just have one example and that too the allyl group is in the R5 position. The scope of the claims as written is drawn to R5 to be many other groups. The only example shown has an unsaturated group on the R5 group and R6-R8 are alkyl groups.

The rejection under 103 has been withdrawn, however new issues are raised and are given below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1, 2 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for R5 to an allyl and R6,R7 and R8 to be an alkyl, does not reasonably provide enablement for R5-R8 to any other group. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. In re Wands, 858 F.2d 731, 737, 8 USPQ2d 1400, 1404 (Fed. Cir. 1988).

The amount of direction provided by the inventor: The inventor provides very little direction in the instant specification. There are just one examples with the R 5 is an allyl group, and R6-R8 is a methyl. Even though applicants specifications have recited a laundry list of variables there is no data provided that these are indeed are monomers of polymers and that they just as easily form polymers. US 6645428 teaches compounds wherein the substituents are at a different position and the property changes. Thos compounds are red in color. Applicants compounds are blue.

Only one example is provided. The claims have a large scope with groups other than an allyl or ally groups in more than in one position. This would require the allyl groups competing to form polymers and it is unclear how and what kind of polymers would be formed. As there are no examples it is an invitation for experimentation.

Thus the quantity of experimentation required is undue to make and use the invention.

Genetech Inc Vs Nova Nordisk 42 USPQ 2d 1001.

“A patent is not a hunting license. It is not a reward for search but compensation for its successful conclusion and patent protection is granted in return for an enabling disclosure of an invention, not for vague intimations of general ideas that may or may not be workable.”
